Picked up a 96 XCR 600 SP from a local guy who hadn't rode the machine since 2004. I've owned sleds in the past but the triples are new to me. Problem I believe is the carbs. When I first got the sled it would fire right up, smoked alot, but seemed to run well. First off I put in 3 new plugs, BR9ES as the manual calls for.

1996 Polaris XCR 600 SP

In 96 Polaris had an XCR 600 SP, in the aggressive chassis, with a re-sleeved 670, case reed motor, I think with triple-pipes. In 97 the XC 600 with the twin came out and the XCR designation was reserved for the triples. Vinson 500 apparently has something very rare. I'm curious as to what the differences between the 95 XCR and the XCR SP are.
